Spatula Color Card Alligator Look Static Cling Colors Crazing Aluminum Flexible Hardness Chrome Effect X-Act

When you call a vendor in today's market, you are lucky if a human answers the phone, let alone take an interest in your special projects. At Deco-Chem, we both have a human being answering the phone and we take a tremendous interest in your needs. As a small ink and coatings manufacturer it is our destiny to provide that kind of service—and we accept it. So send those special projects to Matt Doorn, Dwight Davis, or myself, Brent Davis. 888-DECO INK (332-6465)

May 1, 2006

The first five people to find the hidden ink spatula  and call Ali or Matt with the location will receive a $25 gift certificate to Wendy's, Friday's or Olive Garden. You will then be qualified for the grand prize drawing. The grand prize is listed below for the drawing on December 17, 2006. One per company please. Good Luck!

Congratulations!.....to the five contest winners in the April issue. There were four for Olive Garden and one for Friday's. All callers who have questions about items in the newsletter will be included in the December Drawing. Congrats to those who also found the second knife—an OOPS on our part!

Grand Prize

The Grand Prize is a gift certificate at your favorite department store for $300 or cash. Christmas will be just a few days after the drawing. So you can buy presents for your friends, or buy yourself a present! :^)

The red ink on this aluminum has a 120 degree bend and a 4H pencil hardness! There is no fracturing and removal!
no tape

Having both hardness and flexibility may seem oxymoronic. But this feat requires both a special technique and an ink that thinks for itself! The radius is completely free of any color change due to stress (a problem in many clears). To learn our secret, call Ali for the May summary

Question—How do I cure baking enamels on my deep anodized aluminum panel without crazing the surface?

METABOND + LC-10 (The Answer)

will protect your panel by permitting an extremely low temperature cure. It's all in the Summary!

X-Act Color Concentrates Maximize Pigments

Last month the X-Act color concentrate system was introduced. Now you can learn why this is the system of the future. The information pamphlet at left describes how the X-Act is more cost effective and yields superior finishes.
